04 · MODULE ONE

Data foundations

Start with the core principles of data analysis — key concepts, data types and how data is used in modern organisations. You will learn to source, collect and organise data from different systems and formats, with a strong focus on cleaning, structuring and validating datasets so your analysis is accurate and reliable.

IN THIS MODULE

Data types · Collection · Cleaning & validation

05 · MODULE TWO

Charts & insight

Explore and understand data through practical techniques — identifying trends, patterns and relationships using exploratory analysis, supported by the basic statistics you need to interpret results. You will then build clear charts, graphs and dashboards that communicate insight to any audience.
